The Underwater World Of Lake Minnetonka

What Waterfront Restoration's Team Of SCUBA Divers Sees Every Day Is Nothing Short Of Astonishing!

By Derek Lee, owner, Waterfront Restoration

It's a beautiful, summer day, perfectly designed for lake time. You and your guests are splashing around in the water, the kids are playing Marco Polo, and then ... what just touched your foot? Is it alive? Are you bleeding? Suddenly, the kids are screaming, everyone is scrambling toward shore and frantically grabbing towels, and the mood has gone from "ahhhh" to "ewwww"!

It's time to call in the experts. Over the past 15 years, Waterfront Restoration's SCUBA specialists have cleaned hundreds of lake shores, and what they have found is nothing short of astonishing! Large shards of plate glass, broken bottles, screwdrivers, large fishing hooks, shattered aluminum and tin cans, fire extinguishers, knife-sharp sticks, even a discarded gun! The list goes on and on. They have run into record-size muskies with needle-like teeth, fought off snapping turtles the size of microwave ovens, and learned firsthand about the razor-sharp shells of zebra mussels.

Waterfront Restoration turns nightmare situations into worry-free dreams. Debris removal is included in their main service, in which SCUBA divers remove invasive lake weeds by the roots. Teams of three to five divers work within a predefined area around your dock and completely remove the entire root structure of invasive weeds that could grow to the surface and entangle swimmers. Their chemical-free process leaves the entire lakeshore weed-free so that families can enjoy a clear and clean waterfront all summer long.

Waterfront Restoration has become the most referred lakeshore service provider in the area. As one long-term customer raves, "We absolutely love the improvement of our swimming area. Grandchildren are not afraid to swim because the weeds are not tickling their legs, and there are no dangerous objects to worry about." For hundreds of testimonials, visit them at www.waterfrontrestoration.com. Also, don't miss the before-and-after photos of transformed lakeshores, including pictures of those dangerous objects!
